

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A broadcast group managing router (1) transmits a broadcast packet by attaching thereto a calculation type address which allows to arithmetically obtain a delivery destination by calculation, and each calculation type address calculating router (2 to 4) calculates the calculation type address so as to determine the delivery destination, to thereby conduct the broadcast communication.